The Life of Bob Moffitt

Robert Allan Moffitt was born on a homestead in Wyoming in 1918, and moved to Southern California at the tender age of two. Soon after that the family joined the Eagle Rock Presbyterian Church, where he was an active member for the rest of his life, serving as a member of Session, a deacon and Sunday School Superintendent. He graduated from UCLA in 1940 and worked as a chemist for Fernando Milling Corp. in Lancaster until joining the Navy in 1944, not long after his marriage to Frances Kratz in 1944 (in the sanctuary of ER Presbyterian - back before the earthquake destroyed its big brick building on the corner). Enlisting in the Navy he went to officer training school and served as CIC officer on a destroyer in the Mediterranean during WWII. Back home after the war Bob was laboratory manager of the Ralston Purina plant in Los Angeles until 1960 when the company closed down its local operation and offered him a transfer to their headquarters in St. Louis. This idea didn't go over well with his family, so he looked for a change locally, and was hired at the Carnation laboratory in Van Nuys, where he worked until mandatory retirement at age 65 in 1984 - just at the time when Carnation was bought out by Nestle'.

He had many interests and played an active part in several organizations: Habitat for Humanity (where he helped build several houses), the Eagle Rock High School Alumni Association (where he served on the Board as Membership Chair), NCARE (Nestle'-Carnation Retirees - again on the Steering Committee), the Northeast YMCA (where he was on the Board of Directors as well as a club leader for his three sons), and the Clan Moffat Society (serving as North American Genealogist ). His love of genealogy prompted many interesting trips across the country as well as to Scotland.

Bob and Frances have four children, who also grew up at Eagle Rock Presbyterian, and were subsequently blessed with nine grandchildren and later with nine (soon to be ten) great grandchildren. Bob died peacefully in his sleep on the afternoon of September 16. He had turned 95 in June.
